PLOT TWIST IN LAST WEEK'S ARMED ROBBERY

An armed robber was killed in a shootout at Alpha Blue Bottle liquor outlet next to Alpha Hyper supermarket in East End.

Rustenburg – Last week we reported on a failed armed robbery in which one of the robbers was killed in the shootout.

Police investigations into the incident revealed that the man who was shot dead is a former employee of a local security company. In our 8 April issue, we reported: "Four armed men entered Alpha Hyper and a fifth walked into the liquor store," a security officer told Platinum Weekly. "They pulled out guns and I reacted. I fatally shot one of the armed robbers in the liquor store. The rest of them fled the scene in a white Mercedes Benz Vito," he said.

According to Rustenburg police spokesperson sergeant Ofentse Mokgadi, the gun which was found on the scene is also legally registered in the name of the deceased.

Social media has been abuzz since reports of the failed armed robbery, claiming that the armed robber who was killed, was a former employee of G4S Cash in Transit.

Sergeant Mokgadi however confirmed that the deceased was not employed by G4S: "A month before the incident, he was employed by a local security company. We cannot mention the name of the company at this stage, but it was not G4S."

"No arrests have been made thus far and investigations are ongoing," Mokgadi said.

The private security industry employs twice as many officers as the South Africa Police Service. With SAPS losing trust with the general population in certain areas, people started relying on private security companies to keep them and their property safe.

"Crime in South Africa is a societal issue. No one will protect you or your property the way you would. Take extra care and ask important questions when appointing a security company," an expert in the field told Platinum Weekly.

If you have information about the whereabouts of the three suspects in this case, please contact warrant officer Karel Khumalo on 082 773 0590.

SERIAL SCAMMER

PART 2

Background

Rustenburg – Platinum Weekly was made aware of a man pretending to be a lodge owner in our area, so we set out to investigate. We ended up going down a rabbit hole of scams. The audacity of this serial scammer is mind boggling. We are placing only one or two of his scams per week in our newspapers. At the time of going to print, we already interviewed several of his victims. This serial scammer is also extremely dangerous and armed. He was recorded online, taking out his gun and threatening to shoot another man.

His scams almost play out like a movie... except it's not. It's real life and it's real people who lost real money. It is a pity, however, that only some of his victims have opened criminal cases at SAPS. In some of the cases his scams appear to be nothing more than a power play... a need to impress the ladies...

More and more victims are coming forward and Platinum Weekly aims to expose all of his scams in the weeks ahead. We hope to warn people about his modus operandi, so that they don't get caught in his web of lies. Hopefully he will be brought to book soon so that we can reveal his identity.

To protect his victims, we will keep them anonymous.

How low can you go?

Farmers in the Northern Cape are still struggling because of long periods of droughts. Various initiatives are run nationwide where farmers or organisations assist struggling farmers with fodder for livestock. The Helpful Farmer (victim 3) who also assist struggling farmers, was referred to Mr Scammer as a person who might also be able to assist.

He corresponded with Mr Scammer who told him that he is willing and able to help him – he apparently had more than enough fodder to give away and a truck to deliver it with. All he asked the farmer was the delivery costs from Rustenburg to the Northern Cape. The cost of this trip, Mr Scammer said, "amounts to about R15,000" but the "generous" Mr Scammer said that they only have to pay over R11,000. Desperate to help those in need, the Helpful Farmer (victim 3) agreed and paid over the money. The fodder never arrived.

Scamming the scammer

There are many people who are currently looking for Mr Scammer, whether it is to get a summons delivered or to give the details to SAPS. Victim 4 was almost successful in tracking him down. She managed to get Mr Scammer's latest contact number and reached out to him. However, the person on the other side said that he is not Mr Scammer but that he knows where Mr Scammer is.

He told her that Mr Scammer is part of the mafia and that he is always surrounded by bodyguards but that if she pays him R500, he will go and take photos of Mr Scammer and forward it to her to track him down.

She immediately knew it was a scam but decided to play along. When she asked for his banking details, she was asked to send the money via a money transfer at a local store, as he apparently does not have a bank account. He then contacted Victim 4 again and again, asking for the money, but she just kept telling him that the money is on the way. Frustrated with having to wait for the money, he told her that "it is clearly not that important for you to find Mr Scammer and that you are lying about the money". Her response: "This is just a taste of your own medicine Mr Scammer"... Needless to say, he immediately blocked her number on his phone.

In part one Mr Scammer manipulated one of his victims by telling her that his daughter has died. Not only was the 'daughter' he was referring to alive and well, but the Platinum Weekly was told that the daughter is not his daughter, but the daughter of his girlfriend.

He operates all over the show. If some of these stories sound familiar to you, please let us know about it. Even if you were scammed a year or two ago, you can still report it at SAPS. We urge victims to go and to their nearest police station so that a case can be opened. This dangerous man should be brought to book.

If you missed part one you can read about it in Platinum Weekly's 8 April issue. Watch this space for part 3, where more of his scams will be exposed.

R2.5 million chrome bust

Mogwase – How Ruighoek Chrome Mine (close to Pilanesberg National Park) lost millions to an illegal mining syndicate are part of an ongoing police investigation. How did all the suspects manage to conduct their illegal chrome mining activities for so many months without being detected?

Five suspects were nabbed in an operation involving the Hawks, the South African Airforce, the Klerksdorp Illegal Mining Task Team and other law enforcement agencies.

Two members of the syndicate, Samuel Makhothi (69) and Andries Segobela (45), were arrested at the mine on Thursday 7 April 2022. They were both remanded in police custody when they appeared before the Mogwase Magistrates' Court on Monday 11 April. They will appear in court for a bail application on 25 April.

Three more suspects were wounded during a shootout after they fled the scene. The case against these three suspects has been handed over to SAPS' Detective Services.

In an interview with Platinum Weekly, Hawks spokesperson for the North West province captain Tlangelani Rikhotso said that the total number of syndicate members is not yet clear. "They are not employed at the mine," she said, referring to the suspects.

Approximately 3,000 tonnes of chrome worth about R2.5 million was seized. Rikhotso revealed that four interlink trucks, one tipper truck, three excavators, two diesel tanks, two vehicles and a 9mm pistol, of which the serial number was removed, were also seized by police during the operation.

Head of the Directorate for Priority Crime Investigation in the North West Province major general Patrick Mbotho commended all those involved in the operation. He said that all illegal mining syndicates would be flushed out and that those implicated would face the full wrath of the law. Said Mbotho: "Mining is the highest contributor to the North West economy. It is a very important industry that must be protected."

The Hawks' Serious Organised Crime Investigation unit was assisted by members of the Special Task Force and Air Wing.

Illegal mining activities hampered operations at Ruighoek Chrome Mine.

The Hawks swooped down on the illegal mining activities at Ruighoek Chrome Mine following several months of investigation and surveillance.

Do you have what it takes to become a foster parent?

EVERY CHILD DESERVES A LOVING HOME

Rustenburg – Foster care is not a permanent solution but rather a long-term opportunity to provide a loving stable home for children who were abandoned, orphaned, traumatised or abused. Children's homes in Rustenburg are reaching their full capacity and there is a dire need for homes where these children can be taken care of, provided for and be loved. Taking in a child is not as simple as just having a spare bedroom. It is a big responsibility. These children often require more emotional support. They need foster parents who can understand their situation and deal with it in a loving in caring manner. Families need to be financially stable to provide for these children – food, clothes and medical needs all form part of the responsibility.

They say it takes a village to raise a child and that is why it is very important that foster parents have a strong support system of friends and family. This might sound overwhelming at first, but Rustenburg Child and Family Welfare social workers will always be there to provide help, training and advice. They will teach foster parents proper methods of dealing with challenges. You will never be alone in this.

If you meet these requirements and would like to help and make a meaningful difference or if you need more information, contact Rustenburg Child and Family Welfare on 014 537 2014/2072.

PRINCIPAL'S NEW CAR SPARKS PROTEST

Moedwil/ Rustenburg – Traffic along the N4 was brought to a standstill on Monday 11 April during a protest by Moedwil Secondary School learners.

The disgruntled learners took to the streets after accusing their principal of using money belonging to the school to buy himself a new car.

Said North West Department of Education spokesperson Elias Malindi: "It is not as if the principal took money from the till to buy the car. The principal simply bought the car with his money, and we are surprised that the students made those allegations."

The students later called off the protest after the department intervened. "Representatives from the department stepped in and explained the facts of the matter to the learners. They then decided to end their protest."

Amaranthus cruentus (photo from Mountain Herb Estate's website).

Reintroducing Amaranth

SA – Amaranth is a traditional food. Our mothers and grandmothers used to cook it and would eat it with rice or pap. It's a great substitute for spinach and some people even prefer amaranth to spinach.

Although similar to spinach, it has a deeper flavour and has all the health benefits of spinach and more. Over the years recipes for amaranth has also developed mixing it with various ingredients like potatoes and onions. You can add it to stews and stir-fry's or try cooking it in coconut milk.

The plant is also very easy to grow and with food getting more and more expensive, investing in a few seeds can make a difference for struggling families. Grow your own so that when times are tough your children don't have to go to bed hungry and if you don't need to grow for yourself, grow for others.

Plant information

Common Name: Amaranth - Red Leaf
Scientific Name: Amaranthus cruentus
Alternative Names: Misbredie (Afr), Marogo, Tepe (Sotho), Umfino (Zulu)

Description

The Red Leaf Amaranth is an erect branched plant that can grow up to 2m in height. The green leaves are variable in size and turn purplish-red as the plant matures. Tiny red flowers grow in clusters at the top of the stems and in the leaf axils. Amaranth is easy to cultivate and highly productive – they are, like maize and sugar-cane, classified as C4 plants that follow the 4-carbon photosynthetic pathway. This means that they use low water consumption and make very effective use of bright sunlight.

They will tolerate very high temperatures but cannot withstand frost and need high levels of soil nitrogen for optional yields. Seeds are sown early in spring and seedlings must be spaced in rows a meter apart. Plants can be repeatedly harvested by regularly cutting every 10 days.

Parts used

The whole plant - leaves, roots and stems.

Medicinal uses

The Vegetable and Ornamental Research

Institute at Roodeplaat, north of Pretoria, analysed the nutritional value of the Amaranth, and found that it is more valuable than any other vegetable leaf. The leaves are a good source of protein - a portion of 100g will provide half of the body's daily allowance for protein. The iron content can be as high as five times the recommended daily allowance, the calcium content at least double and the vitamin A content can be up to 20 times the recommended daily allowance.

Cooked amaranth leaves are also a good source of vitamin C, folate, thiamine, niacin, riboflavin and minerals including calcium, iron, potassium, zinc, copper and manganese. Amaranth seeds are a good source of thiamine, niacin, riboflavin, folate, and dietary minerals including calcium, iron, magnesium, phosphorus, zinc, copper, and manganese - comparable to common grains such as wheat germ, oats and others.

Amaranth contains about 30% more protein than cereals like rice, sorghum and rye and can be a promising source of protein to those who are gluten sensitive – unlike the protein found in grains such as wheat and rye, Amaranth's protein does not contain gluten.

According to a 2007 report, amaranth compares well in nutrient content with gluten-free vegetarian options such as buckwheat, corn, millet, wild rice, oats and quinoa. Amaranth is rich in the essential amino acid lysine that is limited in other grains while grains such as wheat and corn are comparatively rich in amino acids that amaranth seed lacks - thus - amaranth and other grains can complement each other.

Studies have shown that like oats, amaranth seed may be of benefit for those with hypertension and cardiovascular disease – regular consumption reduces blood pressure and cholesterol levels.

Miss Continental Africa

Rustenburg - Tsholofelo O'montle Mathebe is a 20-year-old model from Globe Model Look Rustenburg.

Her talent and beauty went international when she took to the Future Fashion Faces World 2022 catwalk in Antalya, Turkey on Monday 28 March and Saturday 2 April.

She walked away with various titles for both events including the title of Miss Continental Africa.

Mathebe took part in her first pageant when she was only six years old at her pre-school where she won the title of Miss Spring. She fell in love with the industry and has since shined throughout her modelling career.

"I met and integrated with models from other nations. I had to get out of my comfort zone and was exposed to a very different arena, different modelling assessments by a different country and international judges," Mathebe said.

The highlight of the trip however was the crowning of the titles she obtained. "These titles are a motivation to young and upcoming South African models showing that it is possible and that they play a very critical role in positioning South Africa in the international modelling ranks," she added.

Have your say / Sê jou sê

Do you think Will Smith was right by slapping Chris Rock?

A joke is not a joke if it is at the expense of someone else, but even if we don't want to admit it, sometimes it's still funny. Violence is never the answer, but what if it is about defending someone you love?

Yes, Chris Rock deserved the slap. The world might not like how it went down, but for me it was the most beautiful thing I've ever seen because it made me believe that there are still men out there that love and care about their women or their wives. This however does not mean I am condoning violence.

Simon Obakeng Thobane

How dare Chris Rock joke like that knowing very well what kind of problem Will Smith's wife has. Smith should have kicked him in the  until he fainted. I will always stand up for my wife.

Oupa Kaise

Yes, Will Smith was acting on behalf of his wife. He was protecting her dignity. Will's wife has a condition and Chris had no right to make fun of her. I think he deserved to be slapped!

SOULFOOD

PSALM 11

Faith in the Lord's Righteousness
To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.
11 In the Lord I put my trust;
How can you say to my soul,
"Flee as a bird to your mountain?"
2 For look! The wicked bend their bow,
They make ready their arrow on the string,
That they may shoot secretly at the upright in heart.
3 If the foundations are destroyed,
What can the righteous do?
4 The Lord is in His holy temple,
The Lord's throne is in heaven;
His eyes behold,
His eyelids test the sons of men.
5 The Lord tests the righteous,
But the wicked and the one who loves violence His soul hates.
6 Upon the wicked He will rain coals;
Fire and brimstone and a burning wind
Shall be the portion of their cup.
7 For the Lord is righteous,
He loves righteousness;
His countenance beholds the upright.

Arendse and Baxter feel the heat!

SA – SuperSport United's newly appointed coach Andre Arendse and Kaizer Chiefs' mentor Stuart Baxter will have a lot to prove when their clubs clash in a Premier Soccer League (PSL) match. The encounter, to be played at the FNB Stadium on Saturday 16 April promises to be a cracker for a number of reasons.

PREMIER SOCCER LEAGUE

Firstly, Arendse will want to prove his ability after taking over from Kaitano Tembo, whose future at the club has come under the spotlight owing to the team's failure to mount a stronger challenge for the PSL title.

SuperSport United will struggle to finish among the top five teams at the end of the season and for a team that is used to winning the title on many occasions... it's a bitter pill to swallow. And the high standard that former coach Gavin Hunt left at the club makes it difficult for anyone to fill his shoes.

When Hunt left the club in May 2013, Baxter had won the league title for three consecutive seasons from 2007 to 2010 – something that has so far proved impossible for any coach at any club to replicate.

Even the likes of Gordon Igesund and Baxter himself cannot boast of such an accomplishment so you can understand why the job of being a coach at SuperSport United coach is definitely 'a hot seat'!

Baxter, on the other hand, will feel that a victory over SuperSport United will enhance the team's chances of securing a second-place finish at the end of the season. With Mamelodi Sundowns almost assured of winning the title, Royal AM, Chiefs and Cape Town City are all vying for a second-place finish in a very tight race that looks set to go all the way to the wire!

City and Chiefs are both on 39 points now and Royal AM, who are on 43 points, are well positioned to brew a shocker by finishing second and completing what has truly been a remarkable season for the PSL debutants.

With just 4 points separating Chiefs and Royal AM, the Soweto giants will now have to win all their remaining 8 matches to stand a chance of finishing second. And while they are wining, they will also have to cross their fingers that Royal AM drop points in their last 6 matches.

Be sure not to miss any of the PSL games coming up this weekend!

Do your bit for autism awareness

Rustenburg – The Ride 4 Autism Awareness (RAA) campaign is calling upon all cyclists to help educate the community about the disease.

The 2022 RAA Campaign will be held at Olympia Park Stadium on Wednesday 27 April with the goal of creating more awareness about autism.

Autism, also called autism spectrum disorder (ASD), is a complicated condition that includes problems with communication and behaviour.

Chief executive officer at Puo Phaa Mosadi Lebo Mosime said their non-profit organisation, which is organising the initiative, is also seeking to raise funds to build a school.

Said Mosime: "Many children have not been diagnosed yet, and many parents have no idea that their children may have autism."

"Our goal is not only to create awareness in South Africa, but to also hopefully build a special school for autism in Rustenburg as there are none in the North West province.

"The RAA was established 3 years ago in Kenya by Andy Speaks 4 Special Needs Persons Africa, a rights-based not-for-profit organization that champions for the mainstreaming of neurodevelopmental disabilities including Autism spectrum."

The 2022 initiative will be held simultaneously in eight cities (including Rustenburg) from five countries. All participants will ride, walk, or cycle on the same date.

Puo Phaa Mosadi are Kenya by Andy Speaks 4 Special Needs Persons Africa's partners for the South African activities of the initiative.

"The ride will be through a yet to be determined route in and around Rustenburg. Autism booklets will be issued during the campaign by the riders at different points along the route," Mosime explained.

For more information contact Lebo Mosime on 082 7488 675 or email info@puophaamosadi.org.

Participating teams strategized before the race began.
